TOWNSHIP FAIR STARTS TOMORROW NOON

CENTERVILLE FOCUS OF INTEREST FOR CARNIVAL

Township Industries And Agriculture Will Be Displayed

Southern Alameda county's greatest home display and carnival will be a reality tomorrow at 1:00 o'clock when the gates of the Washington Township Fair, sponsored by the Lions Club will be opened wide after weeks of preperation.

The Washington High school gymnasium, already a blaze of color is today a beehive of activity as belated displays are set up.

Enthusiasm for the carnival reached a new high last night when a huge parade, the equal of which has seldom been seen, wound through the streets of Centerville amid the clamor of hundreds of spectators. Drum corps, floats, bands, drill teams, fire engines, boy scouts, policemen, farm implements, horses, buggies and automobiles, representing all Washington township towns, Pleasanton, Livermore, Hayward and Oakland were mingled in a vast kaledoscopic medley of color and din.

Beginning on Central avenue, the serpentine doubled upon itself at the Rose Garage and retraced its steps to the high school where it was disbanded. It was composed of four divisions.

Tomorrow afternoon will be given over entirely to the displays with a number of musical selections at intervals.

Promises of an exceptionally fine program have been kept to the letter, and the public may expect something that will be long remembered as one of the best shows ever staged in this district.

Frank Bristol, master of ceremonies par excellence, and himself an entertainer of no humble fame, will direct the features on the stage.

The program will be staged only on Friday and Saturday nights, June 29 and 30. In order to enjoy the festivities to the utmost, all are urged to attend both times. The program will be changed, and a series of new acts will take the spotlight on Saturday night.

Following is the list of entertainers. Some last minute changes may be made in detail and arrangement:

June 29

"The Sequoians," famous west coast male quartette.

Jackie Brunea, soprano.

Long and Short, R. K. O. comedy team.

Peggy Stanley, piano and accordian. Miss Stanley is known as the "Million Dollar Personality Girl."

Lena Long, comedy act.

June 30

"The Sequoians."

The Clark Sisters, dancing and singing.

Antoinette Consoli, lyric soprano.

Gladys Kane, dancer.

Peggy Stanley, piano and accordian.

Frank Bristol will be Master of Ceremonies on both evenings.

STREET BATTLE PUTS NILES MAN IN JAIL TUESDAY NIGHT

An alleged attempt to charge a tin of tobacco to a strange woman ended in a serious fisticuffs Tuesday evening when Joe Morella, recently released from the county jail, enraged Frank Spicciani, Niles store proprietor.

Entering Spicciani's establishment, Morella is said to have asked for a tin of tobacco and when asked for payment indicated that a woman, in the store at the time, would foot the bill.

When the woman flatly refused, Spicciani demanded the tin back. Morella refused, and the proprietor brought forth his club, said to be kept on hand for such occasions. Morella is said to have taken the club away from the irate proprietor and belabored Specciani, until William Bliss, Sr., appeared on the scene and collared the club-weilder.

Spicciani was taken to the doctor's for a row of stitches and Morella was lodged in the town jail by Constable O. W. Ebright.

According to police, Morella has served three previous sentences in the county jail for sundry offenses.

RANCHER SERIOUSLY BURNED AT WARM SPRINGS MONDAY

Enveloped in flames when his clothing caught on fire Tuesday morning, Kiichi Fudenna, 55, Warm Springs rancher, is in a critical condition at the San Jose hospital with first, second and third degree burns.

Fudenna met with the fiery misfortune Tuesday when, handicapped by a broken arm in an awkward cast he attempted to light a cigarette. Apparently the match caught in the flimsy gauze of the sling. His daughter, outside at the time noticed the smoke pouring out of the window, and rushed into the house. She found her father with clothes blazing. Her screams brought James Fudenna, a son, who quenched the flames with a garden hose.

The Chapel of Palms ambulance was called, and after hasty first aid treatment, Fudenna was rushed to the hospital.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Of interest in a San Jose paper this week was the following piece in the "Twenty-five years ago today" column:

Through the efforts of the Ladies' Aid Society of Irvington, a mission bell to mark the Mission San Jose was erected. The Santa Clara Women's Club participated in the program.

THREATENED RAIN DISTURBS APRICOT DRYING THIS WEEK

Growers Apprehensive As Slight Showers Fall Monday

With tonnage even further reduced by the appearance of brown rot in nearly every apricot orchard in this district, the harvest is this week well advanced. According to growers the rot is the result of untimely rains.

It was thought at first that the rot was more or less confined to the trees which ripened early, but subsequent observations show that young, healthy trees, bearing clean fruit for the most part are shot through with the malady. Joe Gomes, local fruit authority, is of the opinion that a considerable percentage of the crop will be lost.

Following the lead of the Hollister district and the lower Santa Clara Valley, where the harvest was begun earlier, local growers have fixed the wage scale for day labor at 25 and 30 cents per hour. Cutters are receiving from 10 to 12 cents per fifty-pound box. The initial days of cutting show that a great deal of the fruit has ripened unevenly. There was some little trouble with sticking pits. It is with satisfaction, however, that growers note the dried product will average fancy.

Damage to the prune crop, still very green, was revealed this week when a survey of a number of local orchards showed a severe cracking. The cracks range from tiny checks to splits that expose the pit. W. B. Kirk states that adverse weather conditions are responsible. He added that even small checks in a prune render it practically worthless for drying, inasmuch as the lye solution penetrates into the meat during the dipping, and leaves the fruit unfit for consumption. In some orchards as high as eighty per cent of the fruit appears to be cracked.

In spite of difficulties that have arisen, growers in the district are holding an optimistic view of the season's outcome.

Threatened showers early this week worried numbers of farmers whose drying yards are already carpeted with trays. In addition to damage to the drying product, the fruit still to be picked would be hurt by a rain.

SWEEPER SALESMAN SENTENCED ON CHECK COUNT

With no charges brought either by his former company, or by local people who were victimized by him, Harold Cox, salesman, Friday pleaded guilty to a bad check charge, and was sentenced to the county jail by Judge Allen G. Norris.

Cox admitted signing one check for the sum of five dollars. In addition to the bad check count, Cox was sought in connection with an alleged vacuum sweeper swindle. He is said to have sold new sweepers for a small sum.

It was thought that either the bonding company, which vouched for him as a salesman, or the sweeper concern would sign a complaint, but neither has yet done so, according to police.

Following his term in the county jail here, Cox will be turned over to San Jose authorities to face bad check charges there.

CHAMBER ADJOURNS FOR ANNUAL REST AT MONDAY MEET

September 10 Set As Date For Resuming Regular Affairs

Summer activities, and the lure of the vacation time will be given free rein among the membership of the Niles Chamber of Commerce during the next two months, following the adjournment of that group Monday in accordance with the annual custom.

The next meeting will be held on September 10, when business matters will be resumed. During the vacation period, however, the executive committee of the civic organization will confer on any urgent matters that may arise.

Extolling the virtues of Washington, and praising the democratic form of government whereby all thrive amid plenty and happiness, Peter J. Crosby, a native of Washington township, and a well-known jurist, was speaker for the day.

Deploring the hard times and the passing of the golden era, Crosby warned that hasty action should be avoided in all efforts to change existing institutions, and that the democratic and tried foundations of the government should be kept in sight at all times.

Previous to the main address, Frank Dusterberry, a guest at the luncheon, stated that the Township Fair appears to be one of the biggest carnivals ever undertaken in this district. He urged all to attend.

The civic group entered into some discussion of the Niles Boy Scout troops, disbanded last week by I. P. Beesley, Oakland Area executive, after the Chamber had withdrawn its sponsorship. According to chamber members, Beesley stated that the disbanding was only temporary and that the equipment and scout paraphernalia would be immediately returned to the troop when the difficulties were ironed out and the sponsorship resumed. The executive committee will keep in touch with developments during the summer.

F. V. Jones, enthusiastic about the coming fair, asked that the town of Niles be well represented in the opening fair parade, staged Wednesday night, at Centerville.

H. L. Scott, baseball committeeman reported on Niles' tenth straight victory, at Hayward Sunday.

TWO YEAR OLD CHILD PASSES MONDAY AT HOSPITAL

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Thurman, of Niles, were this week saddened to hear of the death of little Bobby 'Gene Thurman, aged two and a half years, after a short illness.

The child passed away at an Oakland hospital Monday morning at 11:00 o'clock, after a series of blood transfusions failed to better his condition.

Funeral arrangements were under the direction of the Pratt Mortuary at Hayward Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Interment was in the Masonic cemetery at Decoto.

Peter J. Crosby, of Hayward, was a visitor in Niles Monday morning.

CENTERVILLE TOWN HALL WILL BE SOLD TO HIGHEST BIDDER

Landmark Was Built In 1868 By Citizens Of The Town

The slow and inevitable parade of passing landmarks in Washington township will receive another ghost next month, when the old Centerville town hall, built in 1868 by the citizens of that city, will be sold to the highest bidder.

Bidders will be required to post fifty dollars with the statement that they will wreck the building and remove it from the lot within ninety days.

Once before, during its long career as a social center and meeting hall, the old building was threatened with removal. That was a number of years after its construction, when sale to satisfy a mortgage was pending. The ladies of Centerville, eager to keep the hall for the town, banded together into "The Ladies Town Hall Association," and purchased the property. Since that time it has been cared for by the association, of which Mrs. Mary A. Gregory is the president and Mrs. Fleda O. Bunting secretary.

For many years the Centerville "Town Hall" was regarded as the social center and gathering place for all of Washington township. Dances, socials, and lectures took place regularly within its ample space. The old Centerville Athletic Club, previous to its disbanding last used the building as a basketball pavilion. A bowling alley was installed in the basement. The new athletic club, recently formed, uses the facilities at the high school.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

By NORMAN H. PARKS, Publisher Register

Here's Hopin' You Win

Philip Riley, noted publisher of the Oakland Free Press, political organ, has announced his candidacy for supervisor from the Second supervisorial district, including the territory from Thirteenth avenue, Oakland, to and including the city of Hayward. This is the division formerly represented by the late Supervisor Hyer, honored citizen of Hayward. The place is now filled by George Janssen, an appointee of the late Governor Rolph. We do not know much about Janssen, but if Rolph ever appointed the best man to any office among the names submitted for his consideration, it is news to us, and if it ever did happen it must have been a big mistake.

Riley, in his paper, admits that if elected he would probably be in the minority, but nevertheless insists that he will work out some of the reforms he advocates. At any rate, enemy and friend alike admit that the dynamic editor would never be a silent minority, and nothing could be put over that he thought wrong, without the people hearing about it from the floor of the supervisors' chambers and the columns of his eagerly read paper.

Personally, together with thousands of others, we would like to see Riley win. He would make things interesting It is a mighty good thing for every branch of the government to have a few protestants like Riley in office. His very presence would make the board pretty careful. Naturally, the editor will be fought with every weapon available. He had trod on many toes, and axes will be sharpened to decapitate him, and even old scores.

But, anyway, Riley, here's hopin' you win.

NEW FARM UNION HOLDS INITIAL GATHERING MONDAY NIGHT

The first official meeting of the National Farmers' Union was held at the Washington Union High school, Centerville, Monday evening. A full staff of officers were elected. M. S. TEST NEW 'AEROBOT' TO AID IN FLYING Device Is Called Great Factor of Safety.

Los Angeles, Calif.—Elimination of that dangerous factor in flying—the human element—seemed nearer recently following demonstration of the "aerobot."

Hailed by no less an authority than Art Goebel, trans-Pacific flyer and speed pilot, as "one of the greatest developments in the history of aviation," the "iron pilot" promises to become an important safety factor in peace and a mighty destructive weapon in war.

The invention of George De Beeson and developed at the Korrman laboratories in Glendale, the "aerobot" is nothing more than a one-foot square metal box, inside of which is an intricate nest of levers designed to hold a plane on a true course, bank it, raise or lower it—all with a superhuman sensitivity to adverse air conditions.

Wartime possibilities of the invention were explained by Korrman, who said it was entirely possible with the use of the device to send up a plane loaded with explosives with no human aboard and direct its flight and attack by radio.

In transport flying, Korrman and Goebel believe, the invention will immeasurably increase safety. Goebel enthusiastically pointed out that, once the plane is in the air, the pilot can set the "iron mike" to work, and devote all his own time to radio sending and receiving and navigation (the instrument does not allow for wind drift, which must be calculated), and meanwhile the ship will be progressing under unerring control.

The "aerobot" works by a vacuum system of poised balances. There are three controls—rudder, elevators and ailerons.

Cancer Expert Praises New X-Ray Treatment

Philadelphia.—An effective treatment for certain forms of cancer, recently announced from the Middlesex hospital in London, has been used with gratifying results in the Temple university hospital, Dr. William N. Parkinson, dean of the university medical school, said.

The treatment, known as the fractional X-ray method, was discovered by Doctor Coutard, a French scientist.

"We have followed the method here for the last three years," Doctor Parkinson said, "and have had very satisfactory results.

"It is not applicable to all cases of cancer. In fact, there are special types in which a few large doses of X-ray will accomplish more than a so-called 'Coutard series.'

"We have used the method in cases of cancer of the tongue, esophagus, lungs and practically every part of the body, but it will be necessary to continue the work for several years before we will be certain which methods are best suited to each type of cancer."

"Dumbell' Corpuscles Sign of Failing Health

Philadelphia.—The importance of blood tests in determining the physical condition of subjects was emphasized here by Dr. John N. Hatfield, superintendent of Pennsylvania hospital.

Even the kind of disease sometimes can be diagnosed from the blood, Doctor Hatfield said.

"Normally a person has about 5,000,000 red corpuscles in each cubic centimeter of blood. These, in health, are round discs. But in disease they may be shaped like a balloon, a dumbell, an anvil, a kidney or a flask.

"There is only one kind of red corpuscle, but more than a dozen kinds of white corpuscles, distinct in markings and shape. The ratios between the different kinds of white corpuscles show pneumonia, blood tumors, typhoid fever, pernicious anemia and other diseases."

Man Tramps 150 Miles to Get Auto Tag Money

Salt Lake City.—Walking more than 150 miles to appear in court was enough punishment, Prosecutor Gerald Irving admitted. He released Newton Oliver, 23 Promontory point, who was arrested on charges of driving his automobile without proper license. The man walked home and returned with enough money for new licenses.

WORK ON AQUEDUCT NOW AHEAD OF PLAN

Great Project in California to Serve 13 Cities.

Los Angeles.—The greatest aqueduct built in the history of man is entering the second year of construction in southern California.

If the builders of the days of the Caesars could return to earth, they would see 4,000 men working along a 250-mile desert front, bringing water from the Colorado river to the metropolitan water district of southern California.

They would learn that 5,670,000 barrels of cement will go into the completed project—sufficient to build a 14-foot highway from Los Angeles to New York.

They would be told that 3,600,000 gallons of gasoline will be burned before the job is finished—sufficient to drive 2,200 automobiles once around the earth at the equator.

They would see 90,000,000 board feet of lumber, 41,000,000 pounds of explosives, 2,500 miles of copper cable go into the project.

To Start New Work.

This second year of activity finds 13 miles of the project's 91 miles of tunnel already driven through hard rock desert mountains.

Working under the direction of F. E. Weymouth, general manager and chief engineer, 4,000 men are fulfilling orders of taxpayers to build the aqueduct at a cost of $220,000,000 or less.

Within two months the aqueduct forces will be increased by the launching of several new units of work. The Public Works administration has allocated $2,000,000 for the financing of the first year of construction on Parker dam, the aqueduct's diversion structure on the Colorado river.

The dam, 330 feet high from its bedrock foundation, and 740 feet across its crest, will be built at a cost of $13,500,000 in Parker canyon, 15 miles north of Parker, Ariz., and 15 miles below Boulder dam.

Teeming With Activity.

Preliminary work already has been started by the metropolitan water district on nine additional miles of 16-foot tunnel, bringing the total of the aqueduct bore under construction to 91 miles, constituting all the tunnels on the main line.

Thirty-one construction camps in the Colorado and Coachella deserts now teem with activity as work rolls along on the 241-mile stretch from intake to the terminal reservoir near Riverside.

West of the reservoir will stretch 141 miles of huge mains, to carry water to the 13 cities within the district.

With work under way and contracts already let, approximately a third of the program is accounted for, involving a total investment and obligation of approximately $60,000,000. On the basis of this figure, a saving of nearly $9,000,000 over original estimates has been made.

Woman Bewitches Them, Is Charge of Mexicans

Chihuahua City, Mexico.—Authorities are investigating the charges of 30 residents of the village of El Almagre that Mrs. Maria del Refugio Bermudez "bewitched" them.

The 15 couples appeared before the mayor and penal judge here and asked protection against the forty-five-year-old woman. The case was referred to the state's attorney general.

Victims of the "spells" became rigid, spoke at the rate of "a thousand words per minute and frothed at the mouth," it was testified.

The witnesses also said that they saw "burros with human faces, cows with feet in the air as well as on the ground, airplanes carrying nude men and women, and hordes of frogs and cockroaches."

They charged Mrs. Del Refugio Bermudez gave those afflicted mystic potions and cast them into hypnotic spells.

30 Million Insects to Help Celebrate

Paris.—More than 30,000,000 insects will take part in the three hundredth anniversary celebrations next year of the famous French museum of the Jardin des Plantes.

This museum was founded by Guy de las Brosse, physician to Louis XIII, who succeeded to the French throne following the assassination of his father, Henry IV.

The director of the museum, Paul Lemoine, has announced that 500 of the world's leading scientists will be invited to participate in the celebrations, and that they will be shown the museum's collection.

Farmers May Now Get After Weeds

Land Removed From Corn and Wheat Provides Good Opportunity.

By Bruce Thornton, Associate Botanist, Colorado Agricultural College. WNU Service.

An exceptional opportunity for farmers to control harmful weeds is offered in the removal of large acreages of land from wheat and corn under the government's plan of controlled production.

Such weeds are field bindweed or wild morning glory, white weed or perennial peppergrass, poverty weeds, Canada thistle and Russian knapweed may be controlled or eradicated by cultivating often enough to prevent any green growth appearing above the surface of the ground. Clean cultivation is the cheapest method of eradication available at present.

This usually requires cultivating once a week for two consecutive years, although cultivations may be less frequent as the plants are weakened. One year of clean cultivation has produced desired results under some conditions, weakening weeds so that a heavy sowing of alfalfa has smothered them out completely. However, there is always a chance that some plants will survive under this method.

These weed pests defy ordinary control methods because of the huge amount of food material held in reserve in their extensive, creeping root systems. Usual cultural practices, where care is not taken to keep green growth from appearing, often increases rather than decreases the growth and spread of the weeds.

Clean cultivation has been hindered in the past by the hesitancy to take land out of production, although crops produced in weedy areas usually are of poor quality and low yield. Now that farmers are being paid rentals by the government to keep land out of corn and wheat, or the production of any crop competing with any basic commodity, an unusual opportunity presents itself for eradicating injurious weeds by clean cultivation. Weed eradication will increase the value of the land and remove a source of possible further damage.

Quail, Farmers' Friend, Must Have Food Supply

Among the chief causes for lack of quail and upland birds on farms may be scarcity of necessary food and cover. Failure to supply substitute "patches" when natural feeding ground has been destroyed and neglect to preserve the natural cover for the bob-white's habitat, are among the chief causes of gradual reduction, says the Missouri Farmer. Many measures may be taken on the average farm to increase or improve the food for quail and help bring about an increase in their numbers.

Seed can be broadcast in early spring around gulleys and washes, on roadsides, around the borders of fields and like situations. Cain, hemp, lespedeza, clover and many species of small wild beans and cowpeas provide excellent sustenance for quail. Once started lespedeza volunteers year after year, unless killed out by burning the land over after the seed germinates in the spring. When harvesting grain a few rows on the outside near cover may be advantageously left for the birds. Quail at times do much work on the farm by destroying serious insect pests and are considered one of the farmer's best allies and deserve the serious consideration on any man's farm.

Arizona Indians Place Traps to Catch Eagles

Fort Apache, Ariz.—Eagle feathers, at one time the most sacred possessions of the Apache Indians, no longer are sought by tribesmen in this section.

Bill Maupin, chief of the Indian police on the reservation, recently revealed that the Redmen have turned to trapping the eagles to protect their turkey flocks. The eagles have been killing turkeys in great numbers.

Reverting to tribal customs, the Indians tie a lamb in plain view and set a large number of traps about. As the birds alight to make a kill they often are given something more serious to think about. Chief Maupin told of recently seeing a flock of nearly 500 eagles soaring over a lamb bait. This is almost unbelievable, but nevertheless true.

Russians in San Francisco

Russia made a haphazard attempt to settle in San Francisco in 1806, and finally a Russian settlement was established a few miles to the north of the city. In 1848, two years after this country declared war on Mexico, Capt. John B. Montgomery arrived at San Francisco with the sloop-of-war Portsmouth, and raised the American flag. The site where he raised the colors is still known as Portsmouth Square.

Lights of New York

By L. L. STEVENSON

The Lambs club, which recently held its annual gambol at the Waldorf-Astoria with George M. Cohan as collie, was born in London away back in 1869 when several congenial actors got together and formed the organization. Five years later, Harry Montague came to America and formed the American club, which now has its fold on West Forty-fourth street and the roster of which includes the great names in theatrical history as well as the great names of today. The annual gambols date back to 1888. The summer outings, known as washings, began in 1875 and continued until war days. Then there was a break until 1929. The washing that year was held on the estate of John Golden at Bayside, L. I., and has been held there every year since. The Lambs club barred the ladies from the start and is one of the few organizations to still keep that rule in force.

Hard times, felt with especial severity by the theaters, of course affected the Lambs club and there were months when it looked as if the ancient organization would have to surrender to the sheriff. But heroic measures were adopted, experts in finance volunteered their services, many members made severe sacrifices and the Lambs pulled through. In that respect they were more fortunate than the brother organization, the Friars, which came into existence in 1906 and in October last year was forced to give up its monastic clubhouse. The Friars now meet in a loft building.

Ita, Lily Pons' pet jaguar, is now in a cage in the Bronx zoo. Ita was given to the opera singer in Rio de Janeiro 19 months ago, and is now twenty months old. Affectionate with her mistress and her household, though a bit intolerant of strangers, Ita followed Miss Pons about her home, on trains and in hotels to Miss Pons' delight, but frequently to the consternation of onlookers. But Ita grew up and got a bit dangerous. So recently, Miss Pons took Ita in her car and drove from her Central Park West apartment up to the zoo. There she turned Ita over to Head Keeper John Toomey and went home and cried a little. And at the zoo, Ita was classified by Max Lindsberry, keeper of the small mammals house, as an ocelot and not a jaguar.

One day, looking through the Manhattan telephone directory, the name Bombatement company caught my eye. Made up my mind to find out what it was. Now the World-Telegram has done it for me. The Bombatement company is a concern that does not advertise. In fact, it avoids publicity whenever possible. Known to every trade organization in the city, it is impossible to get in touch with Harry Mooney, its head, unless there is positive identification. The Bombatement company specializes in neutralizing the effect of stench bombs. Hence the secrecy that surrounds it.

The start of the business was in a way an accident. Stench bombers attacked a grocery owned by one of Mr. Mooney's friends. He picked up some of the crystals, analyzed them and experimented until he found a neutralizing agent. While he was treating the grocery, a policeman collared him and charged him with having returned to complete the wrecking job. Mr. Mooney succeeded in demonstrating to the officer what he was really doing. The next day a restaurant on the cop's beat was bombed and he called Mr. Mooney. Then the company formed.

One of the big transatlantic liners will do away with tipping on cruises to be conducted in the future. From 5 to 10 per cent, depending on accommodations occupied, will be added to the total cost of the cruise to cover all gratuities, the theory being that the employees will render better service because the uncertainty of return will be eradicated. The same scheme was tried here years ago in some restaurants. But it didn't work out as it does on the Continent—the waiters not only getting the 10 per cent but tips also.

Evolution of Golf Ball Is Told by CWA Workers

Indianapolis.—Evolution of the golf ball was revealed when CWA workers dredged a water hole on the South Grove golf course here.

The workers found several layers of balls in the silt. The bottom layer was the gutta percha type. The top layer consisted of the present day "balloon" type.

Harry Schopp, club professional, estimated there were 10,000 golf balls or $5,000 worth at 50 cents each in the pile collected by the workers.

The hole was built 22 years ago. It furnishes a fair paying concession for rakers during the summer months.

First Community Chorus

The community chorus movement in the United States was launched in Rochester, N. Y., in 1912 by Harry Barnhart, a singer, musician, conductor, and a pupil of Maestro Cortezze and Verdi. For some time while in vaudeville a feature of Mr. Barnhart's act had been to get the audience to join in the chorus of his songs. Discovering that everybody wanted to sing and could under proper direction, he determined to develop the idea. While in Rochester he secured permission from the mayor to appear with the municipal band in Convention hall and have the people sing. The audience responded enthusiastically, and there was formed the first community chorus.

International Law

By international law is meant the system of rules that civilized nations agree to observe and agree to be obligatory as a common law for regulating their mutual rights and duties in peace and war. Hugo Grotius has been called the father of international law and in 1625 prepared a great treatise covering many debated points. In 1873 the Institute of International Law was founded by the leading jurists of the civilized world. America was represented by David Dudley Field. The Hague tribunal, the World court and the League of Nations are all developments of the attempt to stabilize law among the nations.

Celebrated Rise of the Nile

In the days of the Pharaohs it was believed that unless certain prescribed ceremonies were performed with due reverence to the proper time and place, the Nile river would refuse to rise. The celebrations were participated in by all classes, with great pomp and ceremony. They began when the river commenced to rise, and the rejoicings were proportionate to the height of the rise.

Beet Sugar Industry

More than 31,600 farmers in Michigan, Ohio, Indiana and Wisconsin, produced $25,300,000 worth of sugar, dried beet pulp and molasses the past year. In the four states there are 23 beet sugar factories, which, it is estimated, will produce 872,654,000 pounds of refined sugar, pulp and molasses. Under the participating contracts, in effect with most of these factories, the farmers get half of the net cash return from the sale of these products.—Indiana Farmer's Guide.

Origin of Mourning Band

The custom of wearing a black band on the coat sleeve in token of mourning came from England. It was introduced there for liveried servants, whom it was not thought necessary to fit out in black uniforms.

Depression Hits Santa Monica PELICANS

There's a story that comes out of Southern California. It's about the pelicans of Santa Monica Bay and these pelicans remind us of a lot of us human beings. The experience teaches us that more and better sales effort is required of every last one of us.

For years these pelicans had been fed by fishermen from their surplus catch, until they got the habit of eating without work.

This year high seas changing currents off Santa Monica cut down the catch, and fishermen no longer had any fish to spare. They noticed that the pelicans languished and grew thin and it dawned on them that they had forgotten how to fish for themselves. So they went down the coast and found some unpampered pelicans who had never been ruined by easy living and free fish. They turned them loose among the starving birds, who sat about on the beach and complained of hard times.

The way those imported pelicans went out after their own fish was an eye-opener. Pretty soon the hungry natives quit watching and tried it themselves. They discovered there are plenty of fish in the sea for the bird with energy and enterprise. And they've quit talking about the hard times."

DOCTOR TOLD THIS LADY HOW TO SAFELY

Reduce FAT

Mrs. Helen Greene writes: "A physician advised my mother to take Kruschen Salts for overweight so I immediately started taking it myself. I weighed 192 and after taking 3 bottles I now weigh 165 and never felt so well. It's a tonic as well as reducer."

Reduce safely and sensibly by taking a half teaspoonful of Kruschen in hot water every morning—you'll be overjoyed with your improved health and slender, stylish figure. One bottle lasts 4 weeks. You can get Kruschen Salts at any drug store in the world.

MRS. HELEN THREFALL HONORED SUNDAY AT IRVINGTON

A very lovely custom seems to have been established in a number of churches recently. The one hundred and second birthday of its oldest member was recently celebrated by an Oakland church. The birthday of a retiring teacher was recently celebrated in San Jose, and Sunday, June 24, the Irvington Community church celebrated the birthday of its oldest member, Mrs. Helen Threfall.

Mrs. Threfall, affectionately called "Aunt Helen" by all who know her, was born in a quaint little New Hampshire village, and came to California, via the Isthmus of Panama when she was only nine years old. She still remembers her terror of the trip across the isthmus on the back of a little burro.

The reign of the vigilantes in San Francisco also left a vivid memory, but the most of her life has been lived in the quiet horbor of Washington township, where her beautifully simple life has endeared her to all who know her.

In speaking of the changes wrought during the span of this good woman's life, the pastor of the church, J. E. Moore, said: "No age in the history of the world has seen such great changes, such marvelous scientific advances." The spiritual life of the people, however, according to Rev. Moore, has not kept pace with this material advance. It is because of this fact that such lives as that lived by Mrs. Threfall are of greatest benefit to a community, showing that it is possible, even now, to keep her simple faith in God, and love her neighbors as herself.

A tribute to "Aunt Helen," written by Mrs. W. A. Sloan, was read at the beginning of the service, and at the close John E. Moore recited a five-verse poem in her honor, which he had written for the occasion.

Proper selection of type, careful composition, and painstaking press work are the foundations of good printing. The Register is justly noted for all three. Let us estimate your next job. Call Niles 23.

TRUCK DESTROYED BY FIRE EARLY SUNDAY

Niles' firemen were summoned early Sunday morning to combat a destructive automobile blaze on the highway north of Niles, when a truck belonging to the Ramos Mercantile Company, of Decoto, caught fire.

The firemen, as the result of delay in communications, did not arrive upon the scene until the vehicle was a hopeless mass of flames. Two gasoline tanks installed in the truck made the blaze a dangerous holocast. The vehicle was a total loss.

JOHN F. DIAS, AGED CENTERVILLE MAN PASSES LAST WEEK

Failing to rally from injuries sustained when he fell down the stairs at his home near Alviso early last week, John F. Dias, 80 year old pioneer, passed away at the Hayward hospital Thursday afternoon at 1:30. He had suffered a broken hip in the fall on the preceding Monday.

Dias was a native of the Azores, and came to this district many years ago. He is mourned by his wife, Mrs. Mary Dias, a daughter, Mrs. Mary Roderick and by a son Vincent Dias.

CENTERVILLE JAIL SOLD AT AUCTION SATURDAY FOR $1

The Centerville city jail was sold Saturday for $1.00. It was a bona fide transaction too, with Manuel Rose, the purchaser, declaring that he was going to raze the structure and use the remains for kindling.

Built in 1895 by Frank Smith and Bill Trefrye, Centerville's hoosegow was a one-room edifice with a dirt floor, through which felons were wont to dig tunnels to freedom. If they did'nt dig tunnels, they sawed their way out through the walls. It may be truthfully said that the bastille bore the distinction of being escaped from by more yeggs than any other jail in the state.

Long before Niles had a bastile, the Centerville tank was used as a storage place for bus loads of "floaters," brought in by Constable Frank Rose. (That was when the constables were paid by the head). Now the custom will be reversed and Centerville miscreants will be taken to Niles.

Sale of the structure was ordered by the board of supervisors after Ralph Richmond had noted that urchins and termites had wrecked it.

AMAZING NEW TUBE
DOESN'T TEAR
when run flat!
THIS HALF . . . OF THE NEW "GOLD & BLACK" CONSTRUCTION . . . STILL AS GOOD AS NEW!
THIS HALF OF ORDINARY CONSTRUCTION . . . TORN AND RIPPED TO SHREDS

ONE by one, the old ways of making tires and tubes are being discarded. Goodrich, the oldest tire manufacturer, has pioneered new trouble-proof products that eliminate most all of the present day motoring hazards. One of these amazing new products is a tube that doesn't rip or tear . . . even when it is run flat after a puncture! And here's proof.

Goodrich made a lot of special tubes. One half of each tube was made of the new Gold and Black construction. The other half of the best old-style compound. Then they put them on cars and purposely ran them flat.

The old-style construction was torn to shreds. Ripped and cut to pieces in less than a mile.

Yet the Gold and Black half was sound and unharmed by this terrific punishment.

Here's positive proof that this new tube is many, many times tougher . . . that it will resist chafing and rim cutting . . . that it will not weaken and burst.

And here's the big news! You pay no more for Goodrich Gold and Black Tubes. Come in today. Ask for the new Goodrich Silvertown Gold and Black Tube!

BRIDGE LUNCHEON ADDS TO SUMMER CAMP FUND

Held for the purpose of increasing the summer camp fund for Camp Fire Girls, a bridge luncheon was enjoyed by a number of township women Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. E. Townsend, camp fire guardian.

Hostesses for the affair were Mrs. Townsend, Mrs. C. A. Griffin, Mrs. Leon Solon and Mrs. Raymond Pond.

Plans for the summer camp have been abandoned for the time being, according to Mrs. Townsend, because of the presence of infantile paralysis in surrounding districts. Mrs. Townsend and a group of the older girls may go to the camp later in the summer, if it is noted that the alleged epidemic is on the decrease.

FIREMEN ACTIVE IN CLEARING AWAY FIRE HAZARDS

Fire hazards in Niles were reduced by twelve during the last ten days, as Niles Firemen, keeping a watchful eye on surrounding property, burned off that number of grassy lots within the city limits.

One plot, across from the depot, burned with such vigor and abandon, that residents of surrounding towns, noticing the pillar of dense smoke, concluded that Niles was experiencing a destructive conflagration. No damage was done, however.

The grass burning is part of the local department's annual prgram in lessening fire danger here. They ask the co-operation of home owners, in that the grass be cleared away from buildings and fences previous to the burning.

FARM BUREAU PLAN EXPLAINED BEFORE LOCAL GROUP

What is the Farm Bureau plan? who does it represent? what has it done? were questions asked and answered last Wednesday night by Alex Johnson, California Farm Bureau Federation secretary, in his talk before a large number of Eden-Washington Farm Center members and their friends at the Washington Union high school.

Johnson outlined the purpose of the Farm Bureau organizations, and told of their value to agriculture in general. He is of the opinion that organization of the farmers into a more cohesive and coherent group will do much to elevate farming to its proper place as a national industry.

Prevention Of Infantile Paralysis Is Urged Here

PUBLIC GATHERINGS AND SWIMMING ARE URGED TO BE PROHIBITED

That Alameda county is in for one of its strongest epidemics of infantile paralysis was the announcement made by Dr. Richard Heinz, Pleasanton township health officer.

Because the disease is very contagious and little can be done for the patient who gets the germ Dr. Heinz has advised everyone in the township to avoid all public gatherings, especially those that are out of town. Children should not be allowed to go out of town for their vacations.

Dr. Heinz went on to say that house parties and dances where a younger group of boys and girls are involved should be strictly prohibited. He stated that an adult, who may not be susceptible to the disease, may be a dangerous germ carrier of the disease and spread it around to all the youngsters who are in the crowd.

Every so often an epidemic of infantile paralysis sweeps the state, the cause of which is not known. The epidemic has reached its height in the south but has just reached the bay region. It is expected to reach its peak in this community next month

The epidemic usually breaks in the early fall but this year it broke earlier, starting in May. The infectous disease is transmitted from one to another and is carried by people who do not get it. The germ locates in the nerve centers of the spine, thus causing paralysis of the muscles and also settles in the brain which in most cases is fatal. The nearest infantile paralysis case is located in San Leandro. Up to date there are seventy-four cases in the Alameda county, these being in Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda, and San Leandro.

The epidemic proves to increase every time it breaks. This year it has taken almost double the number of patients. If one has had the paralysis in the past they are immune. Dr. Heinz also stated that eighty per cent of the adults are immune from getting the disease.

The different epidemics have occurred in 1925, 1928, 1930 and the present one in 1934. Dr. I. O. Church, county health officer spoke to a large and interested audience on the prevention of the spread of the disease at a mass meeting held at the Amador high school last Thursday night.

He also urged the people of the community to avoid public meets, prohibit swimming, and to keep the children from going on their vacation trips.

Jimmie Trimingham Wins Honors in Air Contest

Jimmie Trimingham young popular business man of Pleasanton participated in the Junior Birdmen's air show and field day held at San Francisco recently.

Trimingham flew in the show representing the Monarch flying service of Oakland. He has had thirty-two hours of solo flying.

He was the only contestant to give an exhibition on paper cutting. He performed in this stunt in an excellent manner. A roll of paper was dropped from the plane and the pilot tried to see how many times he could cut through the paper before the paper reached the ground.

Trimingham won second prize in the bomb dropping contest. This was the big event of the day. Flour sack "bombs" were dropped in a circle from a height of 2,000 feet.

Another event in which Trimingham performed was pilot and passenger relay race. Trimingham was one of the passengers in this event. The passenger's job was to leap to the ground when his plane landed, capture and put on his shoes previously left behind, dash down a course with a potato in a spoon and then leap again into his plane for a resumption of the aerial race. Two pilots of the Monarch flying school, of which Trimingham is a student, won first and second places.

This is the second time Trimingham has participated in an air show. The first one was held several months ago at the Oakland air port.

Trimingham is a graduate of the Sunol grammar school, the San Mateo high school and of the Stanford University with the class of '29.

Alameda County Firemen To Have Barbecue Thursday

Plans are well underway for a barbecue to be held by the Alameda County Firemen's Association at the McKinley Park, at Pleasanton tonight, according to Crawford Letham, chief of the Pleasanton fire department.

Members of the Pleasanton fire department will have charge of the barbecue. A menu consisting of salad, baked beans, rolls and all the trimmings is being planned by the firemen.

Ray Martin and M. M. Rodrigues, of Pleasanton, will be the chefs of the evening.

About one hundred representing the different fire departments of the county are expeced. A program of entertainment is also being anticipated. Speeches will be made by the outstanding guests.

The water level in Washington township stood at an average depth of ten feet below the surfact in 1904.

Two of the religious figures or icons at the Mission San Jose were brought directly from Spain in 1800.

Pleasanton Firemen Check Fire At White Angel Camp Saturday

Quick response of the Pleasanton firemen was responsible for the extinguishing of a grass fire which would have resulted in several hundred dollars damage at the White Angel Camp near Dublin, recently.

The fire broke out on some pasture land near the camp shortly before twelve o'clock noon. The alarm was sent in and the firemen reported immediately. The firemen kept the fire from burning a large hay stack only a couple hundred feet away from where the fire was burning.

Next to the pasture where the fire was burning was a large grain field which had not yet been harvested. Had the fire started on this it would have been impossible for the firemen to check.

Several acres of pasture land were burned before the fire was checked.

Jerome Arendt's Death Is Mourned By Host of Friends

PLEASANTON'S OUTSTANDING LEADER PASSES AWAY SATURDAY

Pleasanton mourned the loss of one of its greatest leaders and most outstanding citizen when Jerome Harris Arendt, well known business man died June 16, at a Santa Cruz hospital, of a heart attack.

Arendt was born in the house which his family now occupies on Main street in 1875 and was the son of Jerome Harris Arendt, one of Pleasanton's first business men. He was educated in the Pleasanton schools and was a graduate of the Heald's business college.

Besides the large general merchandise store which the firm managed until 1932 which gave employment to several citizens of this city, they were the largest operators in hay and grain markets from this section. They had large warehouses in Dublin and Pleasanton to take care of their large hay and grain business. Through their business thousands of carloads of hay and grain were shipped from Pleasanton to all parts of the United States as well as to foreign parts of the world.

Jerome Arendt had been all through his young manhood an outstanding figure in all civic activities and was a good leader in all public affairs. He was a man with a pleasing personality and through his natural ability to meet the public he won himself an outstanding reputation. A man with a sense of humor his presence in the town's civic organizations, at his place of business, and on the streets will be greatly missed. The success of many of Pleasanton gala affairs and projects was due to the keen interest and a great deal of time and effort Jerome Arendt put into them.

Arendt had been ill with a bad heart about a year ago, but was reported to be recovering. He seemed to be enjoying good health until his final attack. He was taken ill on Thursday evening while attending the Lions convention, and was removed to the hospital on Friday. It was stated by members of the family that he was joking and talking in the best of humor up until the last few minutes of his life, which ended Saturday morning.

Besides his wife, Mrs. Dora Arendt, he leaves two daughters, Mrs. Blanche Hirsh, of Memphis, Tennessee; and Mrs. Linda Strobridge, of Hayward; and two sons, Harold and Roy, of Pleasanton.

SCORING FEST PUTS NEWARK IN LEAGUE LEAD SUNDAY

The Newark J. & F's. beat the Decoto ball team by the large score of fourteen to one Sunday.

During the first four innings the score was tied one all.

Decoto had made four and Newark three hits in that time. W. Robinson hit a home run in the fifth inning with two on bases. Altogether the J. & F's. totaled eight hits and seven runs in the fifth.

Ballangero, Decoto pitcher, allowed the J. & F's. nineteen hits but he and his team mates were only allowed six hits by Ferera, of the J. & F's. H. Dondero, F. Maderias, C. Soito, and L. Ferera, got three hits each. Ornellas hit two doubles for four tries. Maderios and Ferera also hit doubles. Kid Robinson played a good game on short. He also got two hits for five tries. W. In order that Wesley Dexter Gordon may attend, previous to his leaving for a vacation early next week, the second meeting of persons interested in forming a Literary group will be held tomorrow night at the Williamson home.

Inasmuch as Gordon is originator of the plan, it was decided that the gathering, which was to have been postponed, will be held as scheduled.

Those who will attend are requested to be on time, so that adjournment may be in time to allow those to attend the Township Fair, who wish to do so. The meet is scheduled for 7:30 p. m.

NILES WINS CLOSE CONTEST SUNDAY FROM HAYWARD

Minus three of their star players, the Niles C. of C's. huffed and puffed Sunday to maintain a one-run margin over the Hayward Eagles to win by the dangerous score of three to two. The game was played at Hayward. It was the tenth consecutive league victory.

Red Blacow, Pura and Bert Watson were absent from the lineup. Although their places were ably filled, their loss made a noticeable effect in the tally. Both Blacow and Watson will be back in togs this Sunday when Niles travels to San Leandro to play. Pura, who is suffering from a chipped bone in his hand will be on the injured list.

Pitching shut-out ball, with only three scattered hits until the eighth inning, Ray Duarte held the Eagles scoreless. A series of hits in the eighth gave Hayward two runs.

Bob Amyx, blond third sacker, found his eye at the plate and led the Niles hitters with three for three. Raso and Duarte each batted 500 in four chances. One of Raso's was a triple.

Amyx, Lawrence Pine and Cull played steady ball on the field. Amyx and Cull figured in a double play that ended a Hayward scoring threat in the ninth.

With two games remaining in the second half, the Niles boys are cinching up their belts to bring home the cup.
